FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DPAC Named to M2M Magazine's M2M 100 List

Hudson, OH, December 12, 2006 – Quatech Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of DPAC Technologies Corp. (OTCBB: DPAC) and a leader in 802.11 wireless machine-to-machine (M2M) connectivity solutions, was recently named to M2M Magazine's Top M2M 100.

The M2M 100 directory is released annually by M2M Magazine and spans multiple categories, providing vital information to those looking for machine-to-machine solutions and partners. DPAC is among a list of distinguished businesses and emerging companies with the greatest impact.

"This is a great achievement for DPAC Technologies," said Quatech CEO, Steve Runkel. "To be recognized for our leadership in the M2M marketplace is a great honor, but our success is defined by our outstanding customer service and support. We not only strive to produce quality products, we strive for excellence in service too. We work closely with our customers to integrate our embedded 802.11 wireless device server and Ethernet bridge modules in their design process to offer the best-in-class technology solutions, ultimately delivering both high performance products and ultimate business value."

As determined by the editors of M2M Magazine, over 300 companies were considered for their achievements including strength and number of customer references; strength of product/service portfolio; strength of business model; establishment and active involvement in the M2M market; and growth potential.

The M2M 100 can be found in the 2007 M2M Sourcebook at <http://www.specialtypub.com/m2m/m2m100/listing.asp>.
